DANNER X TAYLOR STITCH
THE RIDGE & RIVER COLLECTION

Charles Danner built boots for Pacific Northwest loggers by one ideal: integrity. It's fitting that, almost a century later, California brand Taylor Stitch has partnered with Danner to create a new collection—made for both the city streets and rugged terrain—that's responsibly built for the long haul.

Designed with functional yet stylish pieces, the collection includes everything needed to outfit everyday expeditions: an organic cotton tee with a unique collaborative graphic, the Sidecountry sweater ideal for layering and the Venture jacket, a weather-protective jacket in painted camo waxed canvas. The high-quality waxed canvas is manufactured by Halley Stevensons in the UK. The limited-edition Danner Ridge boot in painted camo is made in the USA constructed with a waterproof GORE-TEX liner and a waxed canvas camo panel, providing hallmark versatility and exceptional quality. All pieces are in limited quantities and available exclusively from Danner and Taylor Stitch.
